

Phishing Email Analysis Report

1. Source Information

Phishing URL Provided: <https://www.alesonbansnk-loans-jp.com/>

2. Sender Analysis

Since this is a phishing website link and not an actual email, we assume the sender would likely spoof a legitimate bank or financial institution to appear authentic. Domain name is highly suspicious and mimics a financial service.

3. Link and Content Analysis

- Domain is suspicious: 'alesonbansnk-loans-jp.com' mimics a banking domain.
- The domain name includes typographical errors (likely intended to spoof a real institution).
- Ends with '.com', which is not common for Japanese financial institutions (usually '.co.jp').
- The combination of words 'bansnk-loans-jp' looks fabricated to trick users.

4. Phishing Indicators

- Domain impersonation of a legitimate bank.
- Likely used in phishing emails to lure users into clicking the link.
- May contain forms or inputs to steal sensitive data like banking credentials.
- Use of urgent or financial incentive terms such as 'loan' to attract victims.

5. Summary and Recommendation

This URL is highly likely to be used in phishing campaigns targeting users seeking financial services. It is advised not to visit the link or enter any personal information. Report the URL to appropriate cyber security authorities or phishing databases.
